A SHREWD SHOPPER.

The Little Play by Which She Won Attentive Service.

"Chicago people certainly have the knack of getting on," a shopper said. "In the suit department of a big store I met a Chicago woman who had been in New York less than a week. She said she wasn't buying anything; had just come to get the lay of the land. In the process of getting it she stopped a cashgirl and said:

"Is that Miss Blake selling white linen skirts to that fat woman? I understand you have a Miss Blake in the department."

"No; that is Miss Barton," said the cashgirl.

"The Chicago woman wrote the name in her address book. Then she showed me the names of saleswomen in several other stores.

"This is only a preliminary to real shopping," she said. "It pays to buy the extra trouble. If I expect to buy more than $5 worth of anything at a strange store I learn beforehand the name of the saleswoman whose looks I like best. Then when I go back to buy I can say, as I shall do here to-morrow, 'I would like Miss Barton to wait on me,' and, although Miss Barton has never set eyes on me, the fact that I can call her name gives her the impression that she must have sold me a $100 dress at some time, and I get twice as good service as I would get if I knew nobody by name."—New York Sun.

Women in a Sailboat.

There is just one place on a sailboat for women. That is the cockpit. Remember that and keep them there, even if it takes a somewhat pointed request.

The average woman on a boat is not happy unless she is taking risks by sitting out on deck or on top of the cabin or going forward of the mast. Warn her and she laughs at you. She does not know that she is endangering herself. Less than a year ago I saw two women knocked overboard in a heavy sea because they insisted on sitting on top of the cabin despite the protests of the man who was sailing the boat. He himself was a greenhorn and let his boat hit, the boom clearing the top of the cabin before any one could say Jack Robinson.—Outing.

Had a Better Story.

"Did you see the account of that flash of lightning that burned the hair from a boy's head without otherwise hurting him?"

"I did," answered the cheerful liar, "and I was pained to note the incompleteness of the story. Now, I happen to know of a case that is really remarkable. The lightning entered a barber's shop and not only undertook the task of singeing a man's hair, but it rung up the proper amount on the cash register."

Fear of Revenge.

"Why are you crying, my little man?"
"Cos I don't want to go to school."
"But why not?"
"Cos sister flitted the schoolmaster last night!"—London Opinion.

Advertising.

Adversity has been the means of making many men famous, but advertising is still in the lead.—Pittsburg Press.

The jest loses its point when he who makes it is the first to laugh.—Schiller.

A Slight Difference.

Uncle Bob, who lived in Washington and worked at the war department, was at the old home for a few days. Little Ted was a devout worshiper and tagged about after his uncle all day long, listening to him and asking questions. Finally he delivered himself of an important matter.

"Uncle Bob," he said, "do you ever see the president in Washington?"
"Oh, yes; often. I see him nearly every day."
"Uncle Bob," asked Ted solemnly, after careful thought, "does the president see you?"—Woman's Home Companion.

Miss Burns, a prominent society young woman of San Francisco, who has been the guest of the Glynnys for the past month has returned to her home in the metropolis.

THE HOPEFUL ATTITUDE.

It Helps One In Striving to Realize His Ambition.

There is a tremendous power in the habit of expectancy, the conviction that we shall realize our ambition, that our dreams shall come true, says Orion Sweet Marden in Success Magazine. There is no uplifting habit like that of carrying an expectant, hopeful attitude, of expecting that our heart yearnings will be matched with realities; that things are going to turn out well and not ill; that we are going to succeed; that, no matter what may or may not happen, we are going to be happy.

There is nothing else so helpful as the carrying of this optimistic, expectant attitude—the attitude which always looks for the happy—and never allowing oneself to get into the pessimistic, discouraged mood.

Believe with all your heart that you will do what you were made to do. Never for an instant harbor a doubt of this. Drive it out of your mind if it seeks an entrance. Entertain only the friend thoughts or ideals of the thing you are bound to achieve. Reject all thought enemies, all discouraging moods—everything which would even suggest failure or unhappiness.

Ingratitude.

"You remember that guy, Jim Burke?" asked an irate Bowery denizen. "He's that stiff dat's doin' time up der river—Sing Sing—bolgiary—ten years. Well, you know all I done fer dat stiff. When he was pinched didn't I put up der coin fer der lawyers? Didn't I pay der witnesses? Sure I did. De oder day I tinks I'll just go an' see dat stiff t' leave him know his frien's ain't tied de can on 'im. So I drives out to de jail an' goes into de warden's office, an' he says I gott'er send me card in. Me card! D'ye get dat? Well, anyway, I writes me name on a piece o' paper, an' a guy takes it in to Jim Burke, an' what d' you t'ink dat stiff tells dat guy to tell me?"
"I've no idea," said the listener.
"He tells him," concluded the angry one, "t' tell me dat he ain't in!"—Success Magazine.

Good Reason.

It was a kindly custom in a certain village for the wealthier inhabitants to make good the loss which a poorer villager might sustain through the death of a pig. Old Major Currie, however, had but recently returned from India; he therefore was astounded at receiving a visit from a laborer's wife.

"Lost a pig, eh?" he repeated gruffly. "Well, I haven't got it. I don't collect pigs!"
"Beggin' your pardon, sir," faltered the woman; "but, you see, the pig died."
"Well, d'ye want me to go to the funeral, send a wreath or what, woman?" he fumed.

"Oh, no, sir; indeed, no!" was the reply. "But we're poor folks, sir, and we thought that, bein' the biggest pig in the neighborhood, you'd give us a little 'elp.'"—London Tit-Bits.

ANCIENT YUCATAN.

Its Mysterious Ruins Once the Scene of Human Sacrifices.

It was Chichen-Itza the magnificent, the Taj Mahal of Central America—and the building we were gazing on was the most wonderful of the ruined group.

As we looked upon it in the moonlight we could not help feeling how awe inspiring this colossal temple, rearing itself 120 feet into the air, must have been to the ancients. On the top of the pyramid still stand the crumbling ruins of a temple. It is reached by a stairway on each side of its four sides, having 120 steps apiece, and contains three rooms, the doorposts of which are carved with the figures of priests, except the one facing eastward, which has large pillars carved into the forms of serpents. The heads of these are turned so that they lie flat upon the top of the pyramid, their eye sockets still bearing traces of the rich green jade that once filled them.

As we sat we pictured to ourselves the strange and barbaric scenes that had here been enacted, for if legends are to be believed it was on these flattened segments' heads that the tyrant priests of the Itzas, majestic in their bejeweled and befeathered robes, tore out the palpitating hearts of their sacrificial victims after slicing open the breasts with a silver knife.

These sacrifices were probably performed in view of thousands of worshippers of the sun deity congregated on the plains below, the heart after it was torn from the membranes being burned as an offering in the inner holy of holies, while the body of the victim rolled down the stone steps to be sacramentally eaten by the people.—World Wide Magazine.

THE HURRY HABIT.

It is Charged With Being a Breeder of Bad Manners.

"My attention was recently called to an article," observed the retired professor, "in which the writer rebuked us, individually and as a nation, for our lack of manners due to the hurry habit. He classed this habit among the bad, senseless, inexcusable habits, and I fully agree with him. Watch a crowd anywhere, pitching off trains and boats or surging on to them, fighting for first places going up stairs or down, squeezing and elbowing to get through a gateway or an open door, and if you were to inquire not one man Jack or woman Marie could tell you why he or she was on the dead jump.

"The average male being will consult his watch, bound across the lawn, run like mad for a car, hire a cab to break the speed law driving to a ferry, dash into his office as if he had done 100 yards in ten seconds, remove his hat and overcoat, open his desk, pull out a slide, cock his feet on it, light a cigar and wonder what he's going to do next.

"The average female being will bore through a fringe of shoppers nine deep to forge to a bargain counter, and after she's arrived she'll calmly put down her purse and parasol, finger the goods for fifteen minutes, ask questions concerning the prices—past, present and future—and move off leisurely without buying so much as a spool of thread."—Providence Journal.

The Father of Tobacco Smoking. It is quite hopeless to trace out the fathers of smoking in general and tobacco smoking in particular. Who first drew in smoke of any kind through a pipe in England and who first of our countrymen took to tobacco will always remain disputable. It is equally uncertain which western tribe made the sublime discovery. There is even dispute as to whether tobacco takes its name from the island of Tobago, from the Yucatan province of Tobacco, from Tabasco in Florida or from a y-shaped pipe which the people of Hispaniola smoked with their noses. Only one name is definitely associated with the great institution, that of Jean Nicot, the French ambassador to Portugal, who spread the fame of the herb through Europe. And of all who are familiar with nicotine today how many associate it with Nicot or have even heard of him!—London Chronicle.

A Misplaced Title. Among obvious misnomers one London theater is to be found. Drury Lane theater is not in Drury lane, and no reason can be assigned for giving it the name of that thoroughfare. The first theater built on the present site was at one time frequently referred to as the theater in Covent Garden. On Feb. 6, 1683, Pepys notes: "I walked up and down and looked upon the outside of the new theater building in Covent Garden, which will be very fine." In those days no theater existed in Covent Garden, the predecessor of the present opera house having been opened in 1732.—London Chronicle.

A Feminine Impulse. To straighten their hats is the first impulse of feminine humanity after an accident. If a woman could be raised from the dead she would straighten her hat before doing anything else.—Marion Crawford.

Just the Opposite. "Whenever you lie to your wife does she find you out?" "Just the opposite. Whenever she finds me out I lie to her—when I come in."—Houston Post.

Fortune has often been blamed for blindness, but fortune is not so blind as men are.—Samuel Smiles.

Refusing the Cure. "Cultivate the acquaintance of women if you can," said the woman to the girl. "Surround yourself by women. They are certain protection against calumny. Women who have many women friends are never so awfully much talked about. It's policy." "Is that what you have done?" asked the girl quietly. "No," answered the woman. "You know it isn't. I'd rather be dead than to have to associate with women."—New York Press.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked.

Help the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Redwood City. Mrs. A. J. Lanfear, Heller and Chestnut streets, Redwood City, Cal., says: "We consider Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy and can give them the strongest recommendation. About three years ago they were first used in our family, when we lived in Buffalo, N. Y. Their use in my case brought prompt and positive relief from pain and aches in the back and other distressing difficulties due to weak kidneys. To say the least, the results were gratifying. Another person in our household who suffered from backache found Doan's Kidney Pills very effective and has used them off and on since then with good results."

CITY TRUSTEES FIX TAX RATES

Council Determines Annual Levy and Considers Big List of Street Improvements

All of the Trustees were present at the regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday evening, which was somewhat shorter than usual. Beyond the final determination of the city tax rate for the coming fiscal year, which will remain the same as that of last year, but the public interest was cleared for the resumption of preparations for the renewal of plans for the improvement of the streets in the central residence portion of the city. Apparently sewer contractors are not anxious for city work at this time as no bids were received for the laying of the sewer in Spruce street, the contract for which was advertised to be let at this meeting. As it is considered imperative that the sewer should be laid without delay, the Clerk was instructed to make another effort to secure bids and a readvertisement was ordered.

A communication was received from Maynard Bailey, district manager of the telephone company, granting the city permission to use the poles of the company for the wires of the fire alarm system.

A number of residents on Roosevelt avenue petitioned for the removal of the weeds from the side of that thoroughfare, and suggested that some repairs be made to the street. This brought forth the remark from Trustee Hynding that the streets of Westlake Park were in need of the same care, to which Chairman Merrill replied that the residents of that section were considering the organization of an improvement club which would undertake to look after this character of work. At the suggestion of Chairman Merrill the street superintendent was instructed to do the necessary work on Roosevelt avenue.

The claim of McGarvey, Hess & Kreiss amounting to $4,736.16 for macadamizing and grading in district 13 was allowed, no objection being made to the work.

The ordinance fixing the amount of money required for the several funds for the coming fiscal year was given its final reading and was adopted. Following the adoption of the ordinance City Attorney H. H. Field presented a resolution fixing the rate of taxation for the city, which was also adopted and ordered transmitted to the County Auditor. The rate as fixed for the various funds is as follows:

	old town	new town
General Fund	1.870	1.530
Public Library	.085	.085
Municipal Imp. bonds of 1906	.450	.450
Water bonds, new	.140	.140
Municipal Imp. bonds of 1910	.255	.255
Sewer bonds	.240	.240
Water bonds, old	.085	.085
Electric light bonds	.085	.085
Total	1.870	1.530

McGarvey, Hess & Kreiss gave notice that they had completed the grading of Grand, Hudson, Iris, Jeter and King streets, in district 14, and asked for its acceptance. Hearing was fixed for September 19th.

T. C. Rice gave notice that he would ask for the acceptance of 7000 feet of curbing on Hopkins avenue, Lowell, Myrtle and Nevada streets, and approximately 30000 square feet of cement sidewalks on the same streets, all in district 14, and the hearing was fixed for the same date.

McGarvey, Hess & Kreiss also gave notice that they had completed the subgrade of Brewster avenue from Clinton street to Broadway, and the macadamizing of Brewster avenue from Clinton street to Broadway, and Fulton street from Whipple avenue to Brewster avenue, all in district 13, and the hearing was fixed for the same date.

This clearing up the general business on the Clerk's docket, some time was given to the consideration of the proposed street work. Preparatory to this Trustee Hynding, who seems to be looked upon as the guiding spirit in this improvement, submitted a list of the streets which in his judgment should be given first care, dividing the section into three districts. These, with the general character of the improvement which he proposes are as follows:

District No. 1
County road—Five Points to Claremont avenue.

County road—Finger avenue to Cordillera creek.

Stafford street—Rodgers street to County road.

Winslow street—Railroad to Marshall street.

Hamilton street—Creek to Marshall street.

Webster street—Jefferson avenue to Marshall street.

Main street—Chamberlain to Holder street.

Four inches rock mixed in oil, with two-inch asphalt covering.

District No. 2.
Webster street—Marshall to East Fuller.

Hamilton street—Marshall to East Fuller.

East Marshall—Winslow to Washington.

East Bradford—Winslow to Redwood creek.

Bradford—Arguello to Allerton.

Fuller—Arguello to Winslow.

East Fuller to Webster street.

Brewster avenue—County road to Allerton.

Alden street—Arguello to Allerton.

Sampson street—Arguello to Warren.

Hopkins avenue—County road to Warren.

Standish street—Arguello to Warren.

Howland street—Arguello to Warren.

Rogers street—Arguello to Warren.

Warren street—Rodgers to Marshall.

District No. 3.
Walnut street—Stambaugh to

Holder.
Maple street—Main to Spring.
Cedar street—Stambaugh to County road.
Hilton street—Walnut to Cassia.
Cassia street—Mound to Hilton.
Elm street—Phelps to Stambaugh.
Chester street—Railroad to County road.
Chestnut street—Railroad to the County road.
Pine street—Stambaugh to Heller street.
Spruce street—Stambaugh to Railroad.
Stambaugh street—Chestnut to Spruce.
Phelps street—Chestnut to city line.
Heller street—Mound to Pine.
Cooper street—Mound to Spruce.
Main street extension—Bridge to Franklin.
Franklin street—Main street extension to Jefferson avenue.
Madison street—Franklin street to County road.
Jackson street—Railroad to Adams street.

In the latter two districts the pavement proposed is a rock macadam with a top dressing of oil and screenings. These were submitted as tentative suggestions and it is probable that some few additions may be made, when the question is finally taken up, which may be at the next meeting.

DOINGS ABOUT THE COUNTY OFFICES

Matters of General Interest to Litigants Called from the Public Records.

Appraisers Appointed
Judge Buck has appointed Edward Stack, Frank L. Durant and S. G. Worden, appraisers of the estate of Thomas B. Cunningham, deceased.

Liquor Cause of Divorce
Judge Buck has granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Rose M. Fellows from her husband, Chas. Fellows on the grounds of cruelty and failing to provide. The couple were married in Winnipeg, Canada, May 1887. The complaint alleges that defendant earns $5 a day but spends it in intoxicating liquors. He has failed to earn his life with the necessities of life.

New Actions Commenced
The Redwood City Lumber Company has brought suit in the superior court against E. McCormack to recover the sum of $317.55, balance due on material furnished defendant within the last two years. The plaintiff also asks for costs of suit.

John A. Flink has brought suit against Charles M. Johnson and others to recover the sum of $1000 on a promissory note executed on April 10th, 1910. The note is secured by a mortgage and plaintiff asks that the property be sold to pay the note. Plaintiff asks for interest in the sum of $40, costs of suit and ten per cent for attorney's fees.

Josephine Schwartz brought suit against Julius Schwartz for an interlocutory decree of divorce on the grounds of cruelty. The couple were married in San Francisco on March 7th, 1908. The issue of the marriage is one minor child, Bernice Josephine Schwartz, aged 20 months. The community property consists of household furniture worth $150. The defendant is a teamster earning from $75 to $85 a month. The plaintiff asks for counsel fees in the sum of $50, costs $25 and all money due and owing of $30 a month.

Ready for Probate
George Leslie has applied in the superior court for letters of administration upon the estate of Margaret Leslie, who died in San Francisco on August 12th, 1910. The estate consists of an interest in a

Alto. Many years ago much shipping was done from that port. Captain Wilson was a general hauler of nature's noblemen. The remains were cremated at Cypress Lawn on Tuesday.

Frank Kirkpatrick was called to Los Angeles last Saturday by the death of his brother, W. J. Kirkpatrick, a prominent lawyer of the southern city. Mr. Kirkpatrick was raised and educated at San Jose. For some years he had been probate judge in Arizona but had to give up the position about two years ago owing to the ill health of his wife. Since then he practiced his profession in Los Angeles with much success.

Will Have More Light
The prospects for a good lighting system in Menlo Park are very encouraging. The citizens of the village met in Kuck's hall Monday evening and thoroughly discussed the question. All were enthusiastic about the formation of a lighting district. Supervisor McEvoy was present and approved the proposition. The necessary petition to the Board of Supervisors calling for an election was readily signed and on the next day the petition was received and the board fixed September 27, as the time to hold election. At the meeting a committee for campaign purposes was appointed consisting of W. J. Murray, Fred Seal and George Meekins. They are now at work preparing figures to be submitted to a future meeting of the citizens. The boundaries of the Menlo Park Sanitary district were adopted as the boundaries of the proposed lighting district. The movement to light the town and vicinity is a good one and it is to be earnestly hoped that there will be no dissenting voice. Lighting districts are successful in other portions of the county and there is no valid reason why the one proposed here will not be also successful.
